

Statisticians/Biostatisticians Sought for Interdisciplinary Research

The Department of Statistics at Virginia Tech is seeking applicants for a tenure-track position to begin as early as August, 2008. Qualified candidates should be dedicated to the model of statistician/biostatistician as interdisciplinary researcher in the area of energy and the environment. The position is part of an effort to strengthen collaborative, interdisciplinary research in this area (see also <http://www.cos.vt.edu/>). All relevant areas of statistical expertise will be considered. The position has been approved at the assistant professor level, but higher ranks may be considered. A Ph.D. in statistics, biostatistics, or a closely related field is required.

Additional information is given at www.stat.vt.edu/New tenure track positions .

All applications must be submitted electronically using one of the following link:
